Question: Should this be a new course? The old course was a Study Abroad course and new description.

Hope Baker: This is all relative to study abroad being affected by Covid.

Discussion ensued.

The committee arrived at the request for the department to upload the new syllabus that reflects the course description (sans Study Abroad component).

Michelle stated this is the consideration of three cross-leveling courses.

Amy answered: They are at our level. They were approved yesterday at GPCC (we had to wait here at UPCC for these to pass at GPCC).

Doug gave a big background on this program. The courses are taught in different departments., but the program is housed in Marketin recently due to Covid (many of the students were International students). The foreign language t know anything about it; neither did management faculty. It came out of Marketing all the way up with the faculty who teach the courses (in other deparments) unaware of the situation.

Hope Baker chimed in to state that discussions have indeed happened. This came from the program discussion occurred regarding the enrollment. Discussion ensued regarding the drop in enrollment. Professors Moodie and Baker discussed the enrollment, the nature of the discussion within the college, and the debate of the value of keeping the program (vs. courses) or deactivating.
